member systems and establish policy on issues such as expansion, rates, environmental resource management, and long-range planning. Each Board Member is a county employee appointed by their local government. Their expertise in water and wastewater utility management makes the Board a very important part of the FGUA structure. In addition, the Board works hard to make sure the FGUA serves your best interests.

The FGUA's mission focuses on providing critical water and wastewater utility services to its customers. To operations of FGUA facilities and management. Out-sourcing these responsibilities saves the FGUA—and, ultimately, the customers—valuable money since personnel, administrative, and other business costs are a fraction of the traditional costs. The system manager, who acts much like a local administrator, provides overall Plant operation and customer service and billing are also provided via contract.

One of the main goals of the FGUA is water conservation—through consumer education and responsible investing in new technologies and proven water conservation methods such as reclaimed water, reverse os-

The FGUA's monthly Board meetings rotate between system locations throughout the year. Board members review and approve all FGUA business matters, from contract work plan authorizations to rate changes and long-terms plans. The System Manager and System Engineer attend each Board meeting, along with representatives from the FGUA's legal counsel, consulting engineers, and rate consultants. Each meeting includes them.

All meetings are open to the public, and we encourage you to attend the meeting closest to you. The preliminary annual meeting schedule is set, but dates and locations may change. Please be sure to check our web site at www.fgua.com or give us a call at 877-FGUA (3482) before making travel plans.
